Equality and Diversity Information - 2019

The City of London Police is committed to providing a policing service that is representative and meets the needs of our community. The City of London is a diverse place to live, work and visit and through the ongoing strategy we will strive to deliver a high quality policing service that builds and maintains public trust and confidence.

We will through our culture and by having in place the necessary processes and procedures listen, learn and strive to improve to meet the needs of our diverse communities.

We will also aim to make the City of London Police an employer of choice for people from all backgrounds and cultures, ensuring our workforce is representative and enhancing overall performance.

Our society continues to become richer in diversity and it is important that as a police service we are best placed to meet those varying needs. This strategy is our commitment to ensuring inclusivity and representativeness.

Force Mission

As the police force for the nation's financial heart, our core mission is to protect the UK from economic crime and maintain the City of London as one of the safest places in the country. We will do this by upholding the law fairly and firmly; preventing crime and antisocial behaviour; keeping the peace; protecting and reassuring the community; investigating crime and bringing offenders to justice.

We are an organisation that continually strives to deliver for our community, achieve excellence in everything we do, and in doing so, deliver an exceptional policing service. This is not just in relation to maintaining high performance but also being recognised as a centre of excellence for our policing services.

Force Values

Integrity: Our behaviour, actions and decisions will always support the public interest and those we work in partnership with. We value public trust and confidence in policing and to earn this we will be open to scrutiny and transparent in our actions. We will respond to well-founded criticism with a willingness to learn and change. We will ensure that the public can have confidence in the integrity of the data used and published by us; we will make sure that all crime is recorded ethically and in accordance with all current guidance.

Fairness: We are an organisation that believes in openness, honesty and fairness. We believe in mutual trust and respect, and in valuing diversity in our role both as an employer and as a public service provider. We will support equality by creating an environment that maximises everyone's talents in order to meet the needs of the organisation and those of the community we serve.

Professionalism: Professionalism is a quality that we value highly. We will investigate crime professionally and thoroughly, doing everything in our power to protect those at the greatest risk of harm. We expect our staff to be dedicated to professional development, both for themselves and the people they are responsible for, and empowered to use discretion and common sense to make appropriate operational decisions. Our professionalism ensures that we meet the needs and demands of our customers to deliver high quality, fast, effective and efficient services

National Police Code of Ethics

Our values, which encompass the Code's nine principles, underpin everything we do. Adhering to them enables us to demonstrate not only our commitment to the national Police Code of Ethics, but also to deliver it.

The Police Code of Ethics nine principles are –

- Being accountable for our actions, decisions and omissions
- Being honest and trustworthy
- Treating people fairly
- Acting with integrity by always doing the right thing
- Displaying leadership through leading by example
- Displaying objectivity by making choices based on evidence and best professional judgement
- Being open and transparent about our actions and decisions
- Treating everyone with respect
- Acting selflessly in the public interest

Our Equality Duty

As a public sector organisation the force has a duty set out within the Equality Act 2010 to protect people from discrimination in the workplace and within society in general. We are required to comply with this legislation and in particular section 149 of this Act that sets out the Public Sector Equality Duty. This duty requires public bodies to have due regard to the need to eliminate discrimination, advance equality of opportunity and to foster good relations between different people when carrying out their activities.

The Equality Act 2010 sets out 9 protected characteristics that we must consider as part how we work and deliver our services.

- Age
- Disability
- Sex
- Gender Reassignment
- Marriage & civil Partnership
- Pregnancy & Maternity
- Race
- Religion or Belief
- Sexual Orientation

We have a duty to publish information on these characteristics to show compliance with the Equality Act 2010. Data on these will be captured within our Equality and Inclusion Dashboard and reported for senior managers to monitor and action before being published on our public website.

Recruitment

As part of our efforts to increase the diversity of our workforce, we have ensured that our advertising reach is greater by advertising in more publications, social media and through our networks. In addition, we have reviewed our career website to ensure that it promotes the force in the best possible way using our online recruitment system that enhances the candidate experience.

The force is also offering application and interview sessions for officers and staff that are interested in applying for a promotion or recruitment campaign and we are currently working to implement a Recruitment and Selection course that will help train our force on good recruitment and selection practice.

We are working harder to ensure that we have a team to represent the force in open days or recruitment events as well as run positive action events.

We also offer a three tier mentoring scheme which is open to all staff.

How is the information obtained?

Other than the statutory requirements and other business information collected as part of the application process, the workforce is invited to maintain personal information about themselves in a confidential area within the HR Self Service system. This data, which is only available to very few HR staff at the force, is analysed by our HR team on a regular basis. We are currently enhancing our HR Self Service system to enable all protective characteristics to be reported.

It should be noted that the submission of personal information is not compulsory. This means that within recruitment applications or when the force ask staff to update their personal information, for example, a person may choose to select 'prefer not to say' or leave the section/question blank completely. This mainly includes data that is personal to staff and not easily obvious, such as marriage, disability and sexual orientation. These makes it more difficult for the force to report accurately. Please note, that those staff members who have left sections blank are not included in some parts of this report.

How do we count the data?

With the specific exceptions described above, everyone is counted within the force. Officers who are performing at temporary rank are counted in their substantive rank e.g. Temporary Chief Inspectors are counted as Inspectors. Officers acting in a rank are counted in their substantive role e.g. an acting Sergeant is counted as a

CITY OF LONDON POLICE: OFFICIAL - RECIPIENT ONLY

Constable. Also in these statistics we have not counted those officers and staff on career breaks as they do not form part of the overall working strength.

The data extract is as of 31st December 2019. It is valid for the year 2019 with the next update due on 31st December 2020.

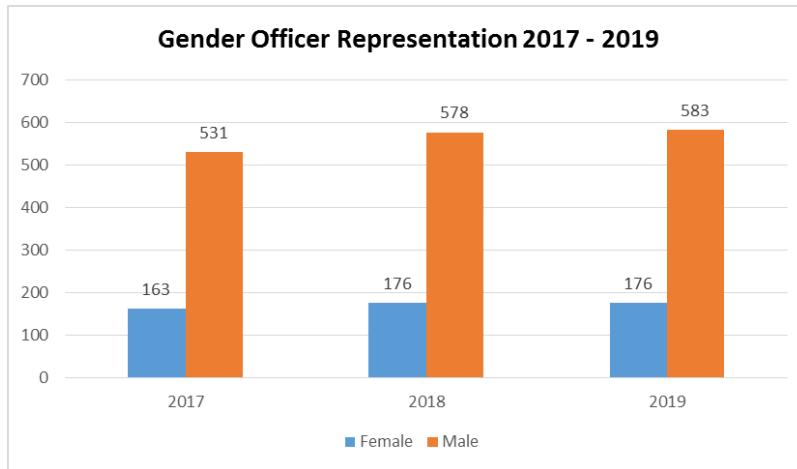

Some changes year on year may be very small and therefore a comparison is shown, where appropriate.

Police officers may retire after completing 30* years pensionable service. Previous pensionable service may include reckonable (e.g. 10 years military service converts to approximately 7 years police pension service) service from another pension provider.

*Recent changes to police pension rules have changed 30 years to 35 years for new recruits.

This leaver information is based on a 12 month period to 31 December 2019.

Recruitment

The staff recruitment data refers to recruitment campaigns during the period of 1st January 2019 to 31st December 2019. The data doesn't include activities from previous campaigns that extended or ran into this period. Not all campaigns are complete. Data includes numbers of people who might have been offered a post at the force but haven't accepted the offer at a later stage.

The short listing process weeds out those applications that either haven't been completed in sufficient detail or have identified that the applicant is ineligible. Processes are ongoing and therefore some applicants may still be waiting to be shortlisted and some to be interviewed.

Gender Pay Gap Data (for Police Officers)

Police officers' pay is determined in accordance with rank, with no reference to gender. Female and male officers who undertake the same role, have the same length of service and work the same hours receive the same pay. Their terms and conditions are set nationally by the government based on recommendations from the independent Police Remuneration Review Body (PRRB) and are bound by police regulations.

At the City of London Police, 77% of our officers are male and 23% are female, meaning every 1 in 4 Police officers is female. Factors such as sickness, part-time working, maternity pay, paternity pay, over-time payments, length of service and unsocial hour's payment will impact an individual's pay. Length of service also influences base pay rates in respect of the position on pay scales.
